MANHOOD

IN THE

YOUNG AND RISING GENERATION.

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show, their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the disease is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The fearful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horrors of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Sight, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Rodent of Society, Solitude, and nothing they more dread, fear of themselves; no relief of manner, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES—SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this same result occurred to two patients. Reason had for a time fled, and left both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1 25 per bottle, or six bottles for 6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Foreclosure Notice.

JAMES T. SANFORD of New York, in the State of New York, hereby gives notice that SAMUEL H. BLAKE of Bangor, in County of Penobscot, by his deed bearing date the twenty-first day of July, A.D. 1869, and recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, Book 380, page 172, did convey to said Sanford a mortgage an undivided half part of township number Two in Seventh Range, west from east line of the state, in the county aforesaid, excepting the public lots, said lots number Twelve, Eighty-five, Ninety-seven, Eight and Forty-two, also conveying all the interest in said lots, being same premises conveyed by said Sanford to said Blake by deed of same date, as will more fully appear by reference to said deeds. The condition of said mortgage being broken, for breaches of the conditions thereof, I claim a foreclosure of the same, the fifteenth day of April, A.D. 1872.

Piscatory Card.

The subscriber tenders his profound acknowledgments to the appreciative citizens of Bangor, for the generous patronage they have extended to him for more than the quarter of a century past, during which he has been engaged in piscatorial labors; and he takes this momentous occasion to express his unhesitating belief, that they intend to continue that bountiful patronage for more than a quarter of a century longer, at the expiration of which he will probably retire with his well earned laurels unless his mind shall undergo a revolution, of which he now perceives no prospect, and he takes this opportunity to further express his belief, that, if there is anything he knows, it is FISH!

In view of all this, the Subscriber—who has been brevetted Pisciator Ma or since his last communication—has the honor to announce that he will continue the domestic importation of ichthyological esculents, and that he has made extensive arrangements for their importation from foreign parts.

The domestic ports upon which he will levy contributions, are Boston Gloucester, Cape Cod, Hull, Portland, Kennebec, Moosehead Lake, Mt. Desert, Wessatiquash, Aboljackneagas, Bassalingan, (where the giants congregate in gregarian multitudes), Pennagull, Muscongus, and other places. The foreign parts are St. John, Petitcodiac, Shediac, Magaguadavic, McAdam Junction, Miramichi, Pombomcoup, Thibideauville, and other places, whose names are too difficult to enunciate and enumerate.

The esculents with which he designs to regale the people of ichthyological and amphibious tastes and palates, are what, in ordinary language, are denominated Salmon, Shad, Codfish—fresh and salt—Bass, Halibut, Alewives, Herring, pickled, smoked—Whales, Sharks, Rhinocerosus, Bloaters, Skates, Bluefish, Suckers, Scaplins, Smelts, Cod-fish, Trout, Eels, Frogs, Perch, Pike, Dolphins, Flying-fish, Sword-fish, &c. Of the crustacean, Lobsters, Oysters, Clams, Muscles, Oyster-plants, Crabs, Turtles, Mud-Turtle and all the other univalves, bivalves and trivalves, that can be obtained from the Bay of Fundy, the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and elsewhere. And over and above all these, he will deal, if desired, by any adequate customer, extend his enterprises into the regions of the Pleiosaurus and Ichthyosaurus, and the Leviathan of the Grand Banks, Newfoundland and Labrador, every where to the extent of his ability during the coming season. He expects Prof. Agassiz to bring him several specimens of Mollusks, when he returns from his exploring expedition, or at least, photographs of them! To conclude, my friends:

Upon my heart and diaphragm,
Your persons and your faces
Are deeply graven, and I am
Enchanted with their traces.
That you will ever keep them there
I make my intercession;
To give you FISH shall be my care,
For STAMPS that make impression!

All orders promptly and enthusiastically attended to.

NOTICE

TO

MILLMEN & MILL OWNERS

The inventor calls the attention of Saw Millers to his invention of a

SAW JOINTER,

To joint Circular Saws of all sizes.

A man with little experience, can make his saw run, with this machine, as well as an experienced man can without it, because with this invention the saw is jointed perfectly square, that giving him a sure guide to file by, having a tendency to swedge the teeth, and not lose the corners of his teeth, making a great saving of files.

The inventor claims that one-third more lumber can be sawed in the same time, besides, saving his lumber smooth and even, with one-third less power.

The inventor, having had twenty-five years experience in filing Circular Saws, warrants the machine to do more than he claims for it, or he will forfeit the machine; and also that every experienced millman will adopt it at once, the price being only five dollars, that being a trifle for so valuable an improvement.

Please call and examine the machines at KIMBALL & SANDFORD'S Saw Factory, No. 54 Exchange Street, or at the Hinckley & Egery Iron Co.'s, Water Street, Bangor, Washington Iron Works, where all the models of them are being manufactured.

Agents wanted to sell these Machines.

PERSONS NOT PRINCIPLES.

Under the above caption, George W. Curtis, the able editor of Harper's Weekly, and the leading advocate of civil service reform, calls those to account who are seeking to force personal issues upon a national campaign. The article is logical and just and has a timely application on the eve of the condition conclave, at which all the motley elements of disaffection are to endeavor to fuse on the single sentiment which they hold in common: personal hostility to the man who is shown to be the almost unanimous choice of the Republican party.

"The Presidential campaign has opened before the nominations have been made. The two great meetings in New York show how fully the public mind is aroused, and there is no doubt that the canvass will be broad and exciting. If it is also peculiarly personal in its character, they must bear the responsibility who have chosen to make it so. They must be held to account who, while declaring that the supremacy of Republican principles is of paramount importance, have undertaken to destroy the party upon grounds of personal preference. Why does not Gen. Grant withdraw, and give peace to the party? ask those who are opposed to him. Because he is the choice of the overwhelming majority of the party; and those who prefer some other candidate have no more right to ask or expect his withdrawal than they would have had to ask or expect that of Mr. Lincoln, to whose renomination many of these gentlemen were hostile. Indeed, there is a letter signed by several of the Cincinnati gentlemen, which was addressed to Mr. Lincoln in 1864, after his renomination, suggesting that he should withdraw. They were certainly poor counselors then, and they are no wiser or more reasonable now.

They have chosen, we say, to make a campaign upon a personal issue. They do not complain of Republican principles; they concede the necessity of maintaining Republican ascendency, but they do not like Gen. Grant. The debt is diminished—but they do not like Gen. Grant! Taxes are reduced, and there is greater honesty and economy in their collection—but Gen. Grant! The Indian policy is Christian and sagacious—but Gen. Grant! Our foreign relations are honorably and peacefully directed—but Gen. Grant! Industry revives; confidence is restored, there is a deep and general feeling of stability—but Gen. Grant! The country acquiesces in the settlement of the war; the Democratic Party is in despair, and sees no hope either in the active or passive mood; it is dissolving if Cincinnati does not try to save it—but Gen. Grant! Gen. Grant! We all remember the war, and the wit of the good Lincoln. Victory after victory lighted upon the banner of Gen. Grant. 'But he's an awful whiskey drinker,' said somebody to Mr. Lincoln. 'I wish you'd tell me the brand, and I'll send a demijohn to every General in the army,' replied the President, with twinkling eyes. And as the country sees the unquestionable good results of Gen. Grant's Administration, yet hears that he is corrupt, ignorant and weak, it replies with a smile that it is astonishing how well corruption, ignorance and weakness administer the Government! Lincoln did not believe the whiskey story, and the country does not believe the corruption story.

The position of the Republican opponents of Gen. Grant would be more reasonable if they would say frankly that they think his renomination would justify the formation of a new party, and that a new party, mainly composed of Democrats, would offer a fairer chance of pure and honest administration. This would not only be more candid, but it would be more conclusive, because it would show to the country unmistakably the necessary tendency of the Cincinnati movement. Even the Tribune says: 'If the Democratic Party, untaught by disaster, should insist on fighting over again the struggles of 1860, 1864, 1868, of course the Republicans must stand to their arms and fall into line. But of this there is no more prospect than of refighting the battle of Bunker Hill.' But if within less than ten years after the battle of Bunker Hill, the Sons of Liberty had been invited to desert their own friends and organization in order to unite with the Tories and red coats in obtaining possession of the new government, on condition that the Tories and red coats could make up their minds to acknowledge American independence, the Sons of Liberty would have laughed their entreaties to scorn. And when a tribune of the people to-day tells Republicans that, to secure the ascendency of Republican principles, he is willing to break up his party and unite with Democrats, provided they will agree to hold their tongues about repudiation, State sovereignty and equal rights, he will find himself, as he should, a tribune without people."

Gratz Brown seems to have plenty of business on his hands at home just now, the reign of terror in Cass County being unabated and the people flying for their lives. Thus far, we learn that the Governor has called out one company of militia to cope with one or two thousand armed desperadoes. The approach of the Cincinnati Convention perhaps inclines the Governor to a mildness that will gain him favor among the Ku-Klux representatives of the South, but Gratz will afford a sorry promise of his efficiency in preserving law and order in the nation, if organized assassins are allowed to overrun his own State while the Governor is caucusing with politicians.

The following dispatch was received from Holden, Mo., on Sunday:—

The reign of terror in Cass county is on the increase. The civil authorities are powerless to enforce the law, and the lives and property of the people are at the mercy of the mob. Twelve men, all citizens of Harrisonville, who were bondsmen of Cline, together with the minister who performed the last rites at his funeral, were ordered to leave to-day within twenty-four hours or be shot. They accordingly left and are now exiles. The mob are furious and have decreed to slay all the principals in the bond matter, their bondsmen and all who sympathize with them and attempt to defend them.

The meeting at City Hall to-night, it is announced, will be devoted mainly to the consideration of measures for developing our unequalled water-power facilities by damming the Penobscot. This project is one of great magnitude in its relations to our manufacturing prospects, and our citizens will be glad to hear what propositions are to be advanced on a subject that has received so much attention. We trust that there may be a large attendance and this enterprise may be presented in such a shape as to commanded the requisite confidence and support.

THE DEMOCRACY AND CINCINNATI.

The Democracy loudly assert that they have nothing to do with the Cincinnati Convention. Oh, no! It might frighten away some conscientious Republicans. And yet, the Democratic leaders are discussing the candidates with a great deal of interest and some warmth. Mr. Belmont, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, drops down at Cincinnati "in search of snipe," and takes occasion to pledge his party in advance for Adams, while Fernando Wood, the Democratic Congressional fugleman, pledges the party as unequivocally against C. F. A. The N. Y. World backs Belmont and handicaps the party with the Massachusetts candidate, and now the Albany Argus, another organ, repudiates the World and its favorites, and gives the Cincinnatians a hint that the Democracy prefer a man from outside the influences of New England ideas, and who has had a "Democratic education" in the "Mississippi valley," which probably refers to the political teachings in that region prior to the era of emancipation. After acknowledging the high personal and private character of Mr. Adams, "which even his ungracious letter cannot affect," the Argus says:—

"We will not imitate the fault we censure by assuming to pledge the Democracy of this State for any candidate, but for our own part we feel, and we find that so many participate in the sentiment that we regard it as general, that the true relations of the Democracy of New York are with the great West. For a public man to have lived in the great valley of the Mississippi, shared its growth and development and anticipated its destiny, is almost a Democratic education. If the Democratic party is to take part in a political revolution, it must ally itself with the growing and generous West, where lies the future of the Republic, and not with sections which have lost their energy and enthusiasm and dwell only in the dead past."

A Washington dispatch says that information has already come from Cincinnati that a prominent Liberal, and one who exercises a wide influence among the Germans, has said that he would not support the Cincinnati nominee unless the Democratic Executive Committee gives assurances that there will not be a Democratic Convention and that no independent Democratic ticket will be nominated. It is not believed here that the leaders of the Democracy will give that assurance. On the contrary, recent expressions give strength to the impression that the most influential Democrats never did intend to support the Cincinnati nominee. They have been urging the holding of this Convention in the hope that it will result in such a split in the Republican party as to give an independent Democratic ticket such a show of success as they could not possibly have if the Republicans rallied under one banner and presented a united front.

THE CINCINNATI CONVENTION.

Dispatches from the scene of the political Babel at Cincinnati on Wednesday, indicate a large gathering of reformers, politicians and sight-seers. Some extravagant correspondents have placed it as high as twenty-five thousand, but more trustworthy estimates are that the total number in attendance may reach five thousand politicians. The building in which the meeting will be held will seat something like 7000 people, and the galleries and floors will hold nearly 4000 additional. Of course it would be utterly impossible for such a mass meeting to act as a deliberate assembly, and it has been tacitly agreed that the States are to select representative delegates, who shall be assigned a compact space in the body of the hall, while the mass of auxiliary delegates will aid by their presence the councils of the assembly. In the grand rush of politicians to the conference there is, of course, room for an infinite amount of friction and disarrangement, and the latest intelligence indicates that the contestations have already begun. The Tribune dispatches give evidence that the fight is to be a lively one.

The Herald's reporter says Judge Davis will come to Cincinnati with the delegation of Maryland, a part of Iowa, part of Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and scattering votes in the South—from Virginia notably.

Judge Trumbull will come with the greater part of the delegation of Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the whole of Nebraska and the whole of New York. He is understood to have been pledged New York State by Fenton and his managers. Trumbull will roll up a large round vote on the first ballot.

Carl Schurz leans towards Trumbull, and will probably say on his appearance there that Trumbull is the squarest man to nominate on grounds of principle and policy.

It seems that Fenton has been playing Judas, first promising the New York vote to Trumbull, and then conspiring with Greeley, Palmer of Illinois and the Pennsylvanians, to vote solid for Palmer after the first ballot, with Curtin for the second place, in return for which Palmer's friends are to drop all mention of the tariff.

Perley writes the Boston Journal Sunday that the indications are that before Wednesday the fight will have narrowed down to a contest between Adams and Davis. If Gratz Brown can be prevailed upon to play second fiddle, the ticket of Adams and Brown will have great strength with the Convention.

The cauldron is bubbling already and with the faction jealousies and incongruity of ideas, there will be lively times in the wigwam before Wednesday night, unless all signs fail.

THE ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS. Advices from Naples announce that the most threatening convulsions of Vesuvius have subsided, after a terrible devastation and loss of life.—There has been no previous eruption since 1822, and none of such fatal power as the present, since 1805, when the town of Torre Del Greco was destroyed and many lives were lost, but in 1862 there was little or no sacrifice of life, although then, as now, a new crater opened in the sides of the mountain, and the burning lava compelled the inhabitants to flee for their lives. A dispatch from Naples dated 10 P. M., Sunday, says:—

The fires of Vesuvius are slackening. A new crater has opened near Tersigna to-day, but with every fresh opening now the violence of the eruption seems to abate. Saturday the entire mountain was concealed from sight by smoke. This morning the heavens were darkened by dense clouds of smoke and ashes, and the winds carried the burning cinders and old scoria as far as Scofato and Palermo. The precaution was taken to flood the government powder magazine at Scofato. The volume of the stream of lava near San Sebastiano is sixteen feet deep, and the village is still in danger. The King, who arrived in Naples Saturday, has gone to San Sebastiano to direct measures for the relief of the inhabitants. The devastation has been terrible. Thousands of acres of cultivated land have been overwhelmed by ashes and lava, and vineyards and farms buried out of sight. The loss of life must have been heavy but it is impossible to ascertain the number of victims.

THE CORRUPT JUDGES OF NEW YORK.—It is a pretty sure indication that justice is closing its grip on the rascals of the New York Judiciary, when the World deserts the cause of its quondam allies. That paper now says that all the indications at Albany are that if a vote is taken on Wednesday next, it will result in the adoption of articles of impeachment against Barnard and Cardozo, that Managers will be appointed and the Judges sent up for trial by the Senate. Various methods, however, are suggested to stave off an impeachment. One is the final adjournment before the subject is reached. Another is an endeavor to secure the direct removal of the accused, requiring a two-thirds vote of both branches, while only a majority of the Assembly are required to impeach.—It has been publicly and boldly charged recently, that a fund of $200,000 had been raised in the interest of the accused Judges. The World distinctly cautions members against avoiding to vote on the impeachment by any subterfuge, on penalty of being regarded as skulking friends of the impugned Judges.

It is now positively asserted that the majority report of the French Arms Committee will be signed by Messrs. Hamlin, Carpenter, Harlan and Ames. Mr. Stevenson will of course dissent, and make a minority report, and it is believed that Mr. Logan will also dissent from the report of the majority.

The Maine delegation to Cincinnati is dwindling. Mr. Talbot has gone to Europe, a gentleman from this city announced as a delegate has gone elsewhere, and now the Lewiston Journal cuts off another name by stating that "Hon. Hannibal Belcher of Farmington, never had any idea of going; but on the contrary, will support Grant."

Wednesday, May 1, will be observed as a holiday by the London Stock Exchange.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

NEW YORK.

SUNDAY BRAWLS AND ASSAULTS.

NEW YORK, April 29. James Burns shot John Holloran in a Bowery saloon yesterday. Burns was arrested.

J. C. Taylor was run to pieces at Hoboken yesterday, by accidentally falling under the cars on the Morris & Essex Railroad.

Wm. Ackerman was attacked by roughs on Carmine street last night and finally beaten. No arrest.

Deputy Sheriff Holloway was shot by Geo. Rome in Hoboken yesterday, during a mutual fight.

THE GEORGIA BONDS INVESTIGATION.

The Committee of the Georgia Legislature which has been in this city three weeks examining and registering the bonds issued and negotiated during Bullock's term of office, has concluded its labors. The Committee have examined and registered over $10,000,000 bonds in Georgia State and Railroad bonds held in this city and were at work on Thursday and Saturday sworn testimony taken before American Consuls in Europe was received from foreign holders of about $1,000,000 in bonds. This makes the total registration of about $14,000,000 in bonds, the chief of which are believed to be legally issued and negotiated, and the holders who bought them in good faith will now be paid in full, while those illegally issued will be repudiated.

THE CASE OF VOGT.

It appears that there is no extradition treaty between the United States and Belgium, consequently Carl Vogt will escape, although he is fully suspected of indirectly causing Count Bianco.

THE BOOK CONCERN IN CHICAGO.

A majority of the committee of the Methodist Book Concern made a report to-day, exonerating the managers from all charges of venality and corruption. A minority of three of the eleven members of the committee will probably present a counter report to the general conference.

IN GENERAL.

The funeral of Paran Stevens this afternoon was largely attended.

About 500 persons have gone to Long Island from New York and Brooklyn.

From the navy yard 345 workmen have been discharged for lack of an appropriation.

The trial of Wm. Williams, Charles Gardline and B. F. Sperman, who are supposed to have surreptitiously entered through the Custom House by under valuation $60,000 worth of lace, was begun to-day.

Nathaniel T. Moore, Ex-President of Columbia College, died yesterday, in his 90th year.

WASHINGTON.

SENATE CAUCUS—ARRANGING FOR THE REMAINDER OF BUSINESS.

WASHINGTON, April 29. The Republican Senators held an adjourned caucus this morning. Received and adopted the report of the committee heretofore appointed to prepare a plan of business. It proposes first to complete action on the deficiency bill, next to act upon the House bill repealing the duty on tea and coffee, the Navy and P. O. appropriation bills, the amnesty bill and the bill to amend, approved May 31, 1870, entitled an act to enforce the rights of citizens of the United States to vote in the several states of this Union, and for other purposes, and the bill to continue in force until the end of the next regular session of Congress the provisions of the 4th section of Act of April 20, 1871. This fourth section provides that whenever in any State or part of a State organized bodies of combinations shall be able by violence to overthrow or set at defiance the constitutional authorities of the State or United States, the President may, when in his judgment the public safety shall require, suspend the privileges of habeas corpus, to the end that all such rebellious may be overthrown. The other general appropriation bills are then to be taken up.

A DENIAL.

The Vice President was not one of the junketing party on the steamer Tallapoosa, Saturday.

BANK REPORTS.

The Comptroller of Currency has called upon the National Banks for reports of their condition as shown by their books at the close of the business, Friday the 19th inst.

THE PRESIDENT, THE METHODISTS, AND WORKINGMEN.

The President was called upon this morning by a large number of members of the Methodist General Conference. Brief and pleasant conversations characterized the affair. The President was also called upon by a delegation from New York city, representing the Workingmen's Association. The delegation asked that eight hours be enforced on the work done on the N. Y. post office, and that the workingmen be paid the highest local wages for similar work—$4.00 per day. The President said that this request must be granted and that they must be treated the same as men employed on the public buildings in South Carolina, receiving a full day's pay for eight hours' work, and extra pay for extra hours. They may feel disposed to labor. He gave the committee a note to the Secretary of the Treasury, asking him to listen to this complaint, and saying:—"I have stated to the committee that the employes of the government are entitled to the benefits of the eight hour law so long as it stands on the statute books." The delegation afterwards had an interview with Judge Richardson, who promised to investigate their complaint at once.

BALANCES.

The following are the balances in the Treasury:

PENNSYLVANIA

EXTENSIVE CONFLAGRATION.

ERIE, Pa., April 29. A fire broke out at noon to-day, in a shed connected with the Germania Hotel at Warren, Pa. The flames spread rapidly, and in a short time the Germania Hotel, Union school-house, Methodist church and four or five other buildings were destroyed. There are no hopes of checking the flames until steamers and hose can be had from Erie, Corry, and Titusville. The loss at present is estimated at $300,000.

FROM CINCINNATI.

GATHERING OF THE FORCES—SIGNS OF AN EXCITING TIME.

CINCINNATI, April 29. The Convention week has opened here with unmistakable signs of being exciting. Delegations from the various States which arrived last night have been reinforced this morning.

TAKING CARE OF THE REPORTERS.

The assignments for the press in the hall will be made to-day. Ample facilities are provided for the newspapers. The Associated Press will have position on the platform convenient to the telegraph.

GRATZ BROWN HAVES OFF.

It is stated to-day by friends of Gratz Brown that he has completed arrangements not to be present at the approaching Convention.

HOTELS FILLING UP—ARRIVAL OF DELEGATES, ETC.

The hotels, streets and everything to-day has indicated the approach of the political Convention to which the country for weeks has been looking. Flags are displayed in various parts of the city, particularly in the German portions. Hotels are rapidly filling and newspaper representatives are here in swarms.

The Georgia delegation arrived to-night and part of the Kansas delegation, and the Texas delegation came to-day. Eleven gentlemen from Arkansas have reached here, as also a part of the Tennessee delegation.

There was no general exchange of views to-day among the delegates relative to the best plan to meet the popular expectation for political reform.

THE CANDIDACY.

This evening there appears less diversity of sentiment on the subject of the candidacy, though it is not impossible to hear from a prominent source intimations that there was a slate fixed up, which if pressed on the Convention, bodes no good to the purposes of its projectors.

MINNESOTA.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 29. Advices received from Oakdale on the Northern Pacific Railway on Saturday evening, announce the wholesale murder of a family named Cook. The murder is supposed to have been committed by Indians. The house was burned to the ground and bones have been found in the ruins.

The Alabama Controversy!

REPORTED CABLING OF OUR ULTIMATUM

Supplementary Treaty Proposed!

CANADIAN REPORT OF A BACK-DOWN!

Bismarck Indorses the American Position

RUSSELL'S MOTION TO WITHDRAW BRITISH ARBITRATORS POSTPONED.

IMPORTANT DISPATCH SAID TO HAVE BEEN CABLED ON SATURDAY — SECRETARY FISH'S ULTIMATUM ON THE AMERICAN CASE.

NEW YORK, April 29. It is stated that Secretary Fish sent a long dispatch on Saturday night to Minister Schenck, as the last words on the question of consequential damages, and in support of the new principle of international law which we demand in return for a modification of the American case.—The only danger of the non-success of these new negotiations is from violent opposition in the English Parliament to-night.

RUMORED PROPOSAL OF A SUPPLEMENTARY TREATY ON CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES.

It is understood that Mr. Schenck has been instructed to say that the United States are ready to make a supplementary treaty, in which the negative of our case at Geneva will be agreed upon as governing the conduct of the two nations when one or the other is at war.

OPINIONS IN BERLIN—BANCROFT DAVIS CONFIDENT THAT THERE WILL BE NO WITHDRAWAL — PRINCE BISMARCK ENDORSES THE AMERICAN POSITION.

Berlin, April 28. Bancroft Davis, now here, expressed his opinion in the presence of Prince Bismarck and Odo Russell, the British Minister, that the consequential damages would not be withdrawn from the American case by the Washington government.

Prince Bismarck volunteered his opinion that the American position is entirely correct.

A CANADIAN REPORT THAT THE INDIRECT CLAIMS ARE ABANDONED.

Toronto, April 29. The Globe publishes a dispatch from Ottawa stating that Sir John Macdonald received a cable dispatch from Sir John Rose, stating that the American Government had abandoned the claims for consequential damages.

LORD RUSSELL'S MOTION—RECEPTION OF FISH'S REPLY TO GRANVILLE.

London, April 29. It is probable that Lord Russell's address calling upon the Government to instruct the British Arbitrators at Geneva to withdraw from the Board of Arbitration until the claims for consequential damages are abandoned by the American Government, will not be presented in the House of Lords to-night, as Secretary Fish's answer to Earl Granville's second note has just been received.

IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

To-night notice was given of further postponement of Earl Russell's motion until the 6th of May.

Earl Granville, in reply to an inquiry from the Marquis of Salisbury, said that during a recent visit at the residence of the American Minister he was informed by Mr. Schenck that the reply of the American Government to the British note of the 20th of March with regard to consequential damages had not yet been received but was momentarily expected to arrive.

POLITICAL.

SUMNER INTERVIEWED—HE HOLDS ALOOF FROM CINCINNATI — A "CIVIL RIGHTS" PLANK DEMANDED.

NEW YORK, April 29. A Washington dispatch to the Herald has the following under last night's date:—

Senator Sumner, during a conversation with a friend to-day, explained that he could not, under any circumstances, take a prominent part in any new political movement of whatever character. "My convictions," he said, "are well known, and I cannot, in view of my reputation and those convictions, assume to be a leader of any party which does not come up to the requirements of those convictions. I look upon the Cincinnati movement with great interest, as an endeavor to purify the Republican party, but I cannot say one word or do an act to influence it, for the evident reason that my motives might be misconstrued. I hope, however, they will have the good sense to incorporate in their platform a plank endorsing the principles of civil rights for all."

"And if they do not?" said the friend.

"Oh, I cannot go where my principles are not acknowledged; and if they do not adopt the civil rights plank, I certainly cannot support them."

A PRIVATE DISPATCH

from Washington states that Sumner yesterday morning said he would not go to Cincinnati, but hoped the Cincinnati Convention will declare openly for civil rights and forever close the issues settled by the war.

THE DEMOCRATS AND CINCINNATI—ADAMS, REPUDIATED.

WASHINGTON, April 29. The Patriot to-day publishes an article understood to be the result of an informal conference of leading Democratic Senators and members of the House of Representatives last night, in which it says:—

"We feel perfectly safe in saying that Adams is not even the first or second choice of any number of Democrats and we are very sure he will not be accepted by them any more readily than Judge Davis, Brown, Cox or Trumbull. Indeed, we fear that even if aided by the Democratic Convention, there will be some difficulty in rallying the Democratic masses to his support, despite their evident wish to sustain the action of the Cincinnati Convention.

A CONVENTION TO BE HELD.

No matter what transpires at Cincinnati, a Democratic Convention will be held, and will command the respect of the country, and its conclusions will be accepted by the political organization it represents."

UTAH.

THE MORMON CONFERENCE — BRIGHAM YOUNG THANKS GOD.

SALT LAKE, April 29. The Mormon Conference met to-day, about 8000 persons, including a large number of Gentiles, being present. Brigham Young discoursed at length. He thanked God for being permitted to be with his people again, and hoped the time would come when he might have an opportunity before a Court of Justice to prove the falsity of the charges against him.

BRIGHAM BOASTS OF HIS MORAL CHARACTER.

He defied all the people of the world to show any sign against his moral character. He was glad that neither he nor his brethren had the power of God till they had wisdom to use it, or they might be led to destroy all their enemies.

HE SHOULD DEMAND

from those who had been persecuting them, all the papers connected with the cases, that they might know positively who their persecutors were.

PRAISE, SCOLDING AND BENEDICTION.

He praised the Deputy Marshal who had been in charge, denounced the lawyers, scolded the saints who had not paid their tithing promptly, and finally, with his blessing, closed the conference till next October.

Attorney General Williams, en route from Washington to San Francisco, passed through Ogden last night.

MISSOURI.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 29. The 5th Infantry, Colonel Hazen, is ordered to Dakota for service on the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad. An additional detachment of troops have been sent to assist in expelling the white outlaws from the Indian Territory.

DICTATION BY THE MOB.

The railroad managers have discharged all the employes attached to the train on which Stevenson, Cline and Dutro were murdered in Cass county on the 24th inst. having received orders to do so from some of the "Regulators."

OFFICIALS FEARED MURDER.

Several railroad officials fled from Sedalia, Mo., on Saturday in consequence of the reports that some Cass county outlaws were there for the purpose of assassinating them. Among those who left was R. S. Stevens, Manager of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad Co.

FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29, 1872.

SENATE.

Mr. Anthony presented a remonstrance signed by an Admiral and other officers of the Navy, against the the transfer of officers from the retired to the active list without the recommendation of the Department, and also against the advancement of officers by legislation without such recommendation. Mr. Scott moved to take up the resolution to limit debate on the appropriation bills to give five minutes for each Senator on each amendment.

Mr. Trumbull denounced the resolution as a gag rule.

Mr. Cole thought it ought to be adopted before the Cincinnati nomination or business would be sacrificed to political debate.

Mr. Wilson was unable to see any danger in the resolution, which would prevent no Senator from legitimate debate. Still, rather than create the impression that it was designed to interfere with the rights, of the minority, he would prefer that the resolution lie over for future consideration.

After further discussion, amendments offered by Messrs. Vickery, Casserly and Trumbull were rejected.

At the expiration of the morning hour the unfinished business was tabled and debate on the five minutes resolution was resumed.

Mr. Casserly opposed it at length, claiming that it was a gag agreed upon at the Republican caucus to-day.

The resolution as amended was adopted, 31 to 13. The resolution as passed provides that during the present session it shall be in order at any time to move a recess, and pending an appropriation bill to confine the debate on amendments thereto to five minutes by any Senator on the pending motion, and such motion shall be decided without debate, and no amendment to any such bill making legislative provisions other than such as directly relate to the appropriations in the bill shall be received. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

The House met at 11 o'clock. Under the call of States a number of bills were introduced and referred. Several were read at length on demand of Democratic members so as to have no time in the morning hour for action on Mr. Hooper's supplementary civil rights bill.

The bill appropriating $50,000 for a custom house at Rockland, Me. was passed. A bill removing the political disabilities from S. H. Rogers, member-elect from the Raleigh District of N. C., was passed. A resolution instructing the Committee on Public Buildings to inquire to what extent purchases have been made or public buildings erected, repaired or furnished without advertisement was adopted. A bill changing the title of the Texas Pacific Railroad to the Texas & Pacific Railroad and providing for its issuing mortgage and land grant bonds, passed.

The bill incorporating the Company for the erection of buildings for the Centennial Celebration at Philadelphia, was introduced and referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee, with instructions to report as incorporators two names from each Congressional district, four from each State at large and two from each Territory.

The conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was rejected, 80 to 84, and a new report recommitted.

At 3.20 House went to the business on the Speaker's table. Senate amendment to bill for employment of surlmen at life-saving stations on New Jersey coast, was concurred in.

The Senate amendment to House bill authorizing Commissioners on Southern Claims to appoint special commissioners to take testimony was concurred in. The Senate amendment to House bill for relief of settlers on Osage lands in Kansas was concurred in. The Senate amendment to House bill extending, for two years, the time of payment by preemption settlers in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Dakota was concurred in. The Senate amendment to House bill to promote the development of mining resources of the United States was concurred in. The Senate substitute for the House bill to perpetuate testimony in the United States courts was concurred in. The Senate amendment to the House bill for the relief of purchasers of lands sold for direct taxes in the insurrectionary States was concurred in. The Senate amendment to various rate bills were also concurred in. The Senate conference report resolution accepting from the State of Connecticut statues of Jonathan Trumbull and Roger Sherman, after remarks by Messrs. Starkweather and Kellogg of Connecticut, was adopted. Mr. Hambleton of Md. presented the conference report on bill for railroad bridge across the Arkansas river which was agreed to and the House adjourned.

KENTUCKY.

ESCAPE OF A MURDERER.

LOUISVILLE, April 28. E. P. Lodge, confined in the Bowling Green jail on a charge of murder, while being attended to by a turnkey, locked the latter up and escaped. A reward has been offered for his capture.

OHIO.

A FLAW IN THE LIQUOR LAW.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 29. A sensation was caused by the discovery that the famous Adair liquor law is imperfect, as the enacting clause reads, "be it enacted by the State of Ohio," instead of "by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio," the constitution prescribes. The question whether the error makes the law invalid will be tested within a few days.

Governor Noyes has appointed five Commissioners to the International Prison Congress at London.

MASSACHUSETTS.

FIRE.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 29. A fire occurred this morning in the furniture establishment of T. Kellogg on Hampden street, causing a loss of about $13,000. Building only partially destroyed. Fully insured.

STABBED.

Jacob Pinto was seriously stabbed to-day in a street fight with Edward Monnan, both Cuban and rival cigar dealers. Monnan was arrested and held for trial in $1500 bail.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

FIRES.

NASHUA, April 29. The Sanhegan mills at Milford were burned at 1 o'clock last night, with the dry-house connected therewith. The mills were built in 1848, and at present are managed by G. C. Gilmore, agent.

LACONIA, April 29. The farm buildings of J. & B. Cates of Northfield were burned last night.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 29. Senator Hamburg died this afternoon and the Clerk of the Assembly, Mr. Underwood, is not expected to live.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., April 29. The fires on the mountains continue. Fires are also raging along the Rondout and Oswego Railroad and a considerable amount of cordwood and railroad ties have been consumed. Everything is very dry and the fire spreads with rapidity.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, April 30.—1 A. M.,

Probabilities.

A falling barometer will prevail on Tuesday, from the lakes to the Gulf and Atlantic; clear and partially cloudy weather over New England, Middle Atlantic and Southern States; and easterly to southerly winds, cloudy weather and rain from the Ohio valley to the upper lakes and extend eastward over the northern portion of the Middle States; brisk and possibly high winds are probable for the upper lakes and will extend to the lower lakes; clearing weather and northwesterly winds for the Northwest.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

WHEREABOUTS OF DON CARLOS.

LONDON, April 29. A despatch from Paris to the Times says that Don Carlos is not in Spain, but that the governments of both that country and France know exactly where he is.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

Mr. Cochrane, member for the Isle of Wight gave notice that he should to-morrow ask the government whether it could produce the correspondence which had passed between the Colonial Office and the Canadian government with relation to the Treaty of Washington.

Later in the evening Mr. Gladstone, replying to a question by Mr. Jenkinson, said that the Imperial government had agreed to guarantee the Canadian loan of $2,000,000 pounds sterling for the construction of a railway to the Pacific, providing such railway should escape the Washington Treaty.

THE MAILS.

The Postmaster General of New Zealand has telegraphed to the Postmaster General that he has concluded a satisfactory partnership between the colonies of Victoria and New Zealand for the transportation of English mail for Australia via San Francisco.

EMPRESS AUGUSTA

of Germany, who has left Berlin, will be the guest of Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle. The Empress visits London next week.

Wednesday next is the regular settling day of the Bank of England, Stock Exchange will be closed. The Earl of Zetland is ill.

CARTMEN'S STRIKE.

LIVERPOOL, 29. Two thousand cartmen of this city have struck work, and all business on the docks and in the warehouses is interrupted in consequence. Upwards of 1000 laborers are thrown out of employment by the action of the cartmen.

The Eruption of Mt. Vesuvius!!

A MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE.

FRIGHTFUL PHENOMENA!

THE SPECTACLE MAGNIFICENT—HOUSES ABANDONED HOMES.

Naples, April 29. The view of Vesuvius from this city now is the grandest ever witnessed. Many persons have taken advantage of the panic among the people of towns threatened with destruction, to take whatever goods they could find and government is compelled to order out troops to prevent the stealing of abandoned property.

AT NAPLES—THE WORST OF THE ERUPTION OVER.

In this city, the Bourse is closed and business is almost suspended. The people use umbrellas to protect them from falling ashes. Rain is badly wanted, else the crops will be destroyed. The worst is now believed to be over, and the anxiety of the people is considerably lessened.

A sound like thunder accompanies the discharges from Mount Vesuvius. The wind is blowing in this direction to-day, carrying dense clouds of smoke and ashes over the city. The ashes are falling in the streets like snow and have already reached the depth of 2 or three inches. The rumbling inside the volcano continues, but no fresh craters have opened and the lava has ceased flowing.

LATER—THE ERUPTIONS INCREASING—STARTLING PHENOMENA.

2 P. M. Showers of sand have succeeded the rain of ashes which was falling this morning. The eruption is now accompanied by fearful electric phenomena. Lightning darts incessantly from the summit of the volcano, and the quaking of the mountains is more violent and frequent. The thunders are continuous. Burning cinders, stones and scoriæ are falling fast and thick in the town of Massdi Somma, which is entirely deserted.

SPAIN.

THE INSURRECTION SPREADING.

Madrid, April 28. Fifteen hundred Carlists are in arms. Many skirmishes have taken place, and the city of Pampeluna is menaced. The insurrection is spreading enormously and troops are demanded everywhere.

SUPPORTING THE GOVERNMENT.

Everywhere throughout the country the Republicans and Progressists are announcing their intent to support the government in its present troubles. Zorilla, a well-known Radical, commands a column of government troops in the Province of Navarre. The appointment of Zorilla to this command had a good effect on the large number who wavered in the support of the government.

A proclamation signed by Don Carlos is circulating in this city. In it the Pretender exclaims: "Thank God, I am once more permitted to kiss the sacred soil of my country and be again among Spaniards." He earnestly appeals to the people to rise in arms, and declares that he will deliver Spain or die in the attempt. Official reports say that no band of rebels remains in the province of Saragossa. Marshal Senaro commences active operations in Navarre to-day with a strong column of troops from Tafalla, 22 miles from Pampeluna. It is said that the King insists on taking active command of the army.

ST. RENDER OF CARLISTS.

Forty Carlists yesterday appeared at the town of Stanan in the Province of Guipuzcoa, and surrendered to the troops stationed there.

PRISONERS TAKEN.

The Government forces occupying the town of Vittoria, the capital of the Province of Alava yesterday, attacked a band of insurgents near Iratabiaz and took sixty prisoners.

THE TROOPS

now in pursuit of the Carlists bands throughout the Kingdom, are very active. The spirit of the army generally is excellent. It is learned from prisoners captured that each band of insurrectionists has a priest at its head or among its officers.

THE EARTHQUAKE IN SYRIA.

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE CALAMITY—LOSS OF LIFE AT ANTIOCH AND ELSEWHERE—FOUR AMERICANS KILLED.

London, April 29. Particulars of the late earthquake in Syria show that the fatalities were not greatest in Antioch, but heavier in the country in the vicinity. A letter from Antioch, April 4th, says: "Quite a number of Protestant Christians were severely injured and four Americans were killed. All the members of the families of missionaries are safe.

1900 LIVES LOST.

The number of persons killed in Antioch is less than 400, but 1600 people in the surrounding towns and country, where the shocks were as severe if not greater than here, were killed, and this number may be increased. The distress of the people will be only temporary as the crop prospects are good, though the supply of provisions on hand is no large.

A BENEVOLENT AMERICAN.

Correspondents of London papers praise Rev. Mr. Powers, American Missionary, for assiduity in administering relief to the afflicted people.

THE DOMINION.

THE ST. LAWRENCE.

Farther Point, April 29. The steamer Scandinavian, the first steamer for Quebec this season, passed here this morning.

NEWFOUNDLAND.

Halifax, April 29. Advices by mail from Newfoundland report the catch of seals much below the average. In the future the N. F. mail service will be performed by a steamer of the Quebec and Gulf Ports line.

FRANCE.

NEUTRALITY DECREE.

Paris 29. An official decree has been issued warning all Frenchmen against participating in the insurrectionary movement in Spain, and providing heavy penalties for all violations of the decree. Col. Charretier, formerly of the Papal service, has engaged to keep the Pontifical troops, now in France, from taking up arms for either side, in the struggle.

LIKES REOPENED.

A dispatch from Bayonne reports that communication by rail and telegraph between that city and Madrid has been re-established.

COURT MARTIAL

In consequence of the report of the committee to inquire into the capitulation of the French towns and fortresses during the late war, the Government has determined to put two or three Generals who are censured by the Commission, on trial before a court martial.

THE IRON MINERS

of Sono and Rosters, in the Basque Province of Spain, having joined the insurrection, all mining operations are suspended. Two hundred English vessels now at Bilbao, are unable to obtain cargoes of ore and will be compelled to return home empty.

SENTENCED TO BE SHOT.

Gerton, who was convicted of participating in the slaughter of hostages under the Commune, will be shot at Satorz to-morrow morning.

Blanqui has been sentenced to transportation for life.

PERSONAL.

Miss Nellie Grant and party arrived in Paris to-day and alighted at the Hotel de Meurice.

PRUSSIA.

Berlin, April 29. Prince Frederick Charles has returned from his tour in Southern and Southeastern Europe.

At Worcester, Mass., on Sunday, Patrick Murphy, 55 years of age, stabbed his wife in the neck, and attempted to cut his throat.—He is supposed to be insane. The man will recover, but the woman is dangerously wounded.

THE CINCINNATI CONVENTION.

SCENE—A CROOD OF THE CHAITORS.

All singing—
Black spirits and blue spirits
Low spirits and gray,
Mingle, mingle, mingle,
On the first of May.

First wire-puller—
Thrice the "barass" have mewed,

Second wire puller—
Thrice and thrice the Dems have whined.

Third wire-puller—
Greeley cries—"'Tis time, 'tis time"

Chicago Tribune de-gate—
Round about the platform go,
In the resolutions throw
Free trade plank and a French gun,
Schurz and Sumner make a bone,
Sweetened venom we have—gee!
Boiling in the charmed pot.

All together
Grumble, grumble, Schurz and Trumbull,
Greeley growl and Tipton tumble

New York Tribune lie, pale—
In the magic platform yank
Also a protection plank,
Free trade and protection double
Make a spell of powerful trouble

All together—
Grumble, grumble, Schurz and Trumbull,
Greeley growl and Tipton tumble.

Pipe-layer-in-chief—
When the hurly-burly's done,
Who shall on our ticket run?
Free-trade Trumbull I name first
Next protection Greeley's worst
Of the aspirants, Gratz Brown—
Every State will vote him down,
Most as bad is Justice Davis;
C. F. Adams far-too grave is;
Parker, he's a democrat,
And the people won't stand that;
Very much I fear we can't
Name a man who can beat Grant.

All together—
Grumble, grumble, Schurz and Trumbull,
Greeley growl, and Tipton tumble.

First democrat—
What will we do? Shall we march with them?
To show an unfelt pretense is all
Which the false man does care.

Second democrat—
And so will I. A separated party
May keep us all the safer; where we are
There's danger in men's snares; but offices
We have long wished for—how else get them?
Treason and folly do contend above us
Whether we live or die; and is it best to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune,
Or take up arms against a sea of troubles
And, in opposing, end them? That is the best consider.

First democrat—
At least we'll join in the chorus. That can't harm us.

All together—
Grumble, grumble, Schurz and Trumbull;
Greeley growl, and Tipton tumble.

—Missouri Democrat.

IN SIR RUPERT'S ROOM.

I left so young and inexperienced to enter on an engagement of trust and responsibility, such as I knew that of a governess to be, that when I drove to my first situation I saw nothing of the beauty which surrounded me. I went through the wide-spreading park, and saw nothing of the rich vast extent of green, of its silvery gleaming waters, of its giant spring-clad trees. I could only sit quite still in the corner of the long luxurious carriage, and clasp my hands and cry in my heart that I would try with all my might to make my pupil love me, and to do well whatever I should have to do. And when Crayden Abbey came in sight at last, I looked upon its thick red walls and heavy stacks of chimneys thinking, in a vague and dreamy way, that it was a very grand old place, but still wondering above all, would my pupil love me? Could I do all that I ought to do?

In a long oak-wainscoted room with four narrow stone-mullioned windows down one side, I sat, after my solitary tea, waiting for the promised visit from my pupil. I had waited for a considerable time, when Lady Hurst brought her in to me.

And such a winsome child she was! Ah, little Dolly, its twenty long long years since you came in to me that night, and heaving your mother's side, threw two little arms around my neck and pressed two warm red lips upon my own; but from that moment, I, who had been feeling so inexpressibly lonely in the big strange house until you came, took your image into the utmost depths of my heart, and through those twenty years it has lain there undisturbed, loved and cherished always, with a more sacred if a sadder love, dear, than could have been if you were now a happy and a beautiful young mother in your turn.

"This is Dolly, Miss May," said Lady Hurst laying her white ringed hand with ineffable tenderness on the child's bright hair which fell to her waist in rich, wide, natural waves—"This is Dolly; and I would not let her come before, because I knew you would have no rest after her coming, and therefore your only chance was to take it before."

She left Dolly with me then, and went to dinner, but later, when the child was gone to bed, she came in again and sat down before the fire, telling me all I should be expected to do in my new position, and speaking kind and encouraging words to me. We talked a long time of my little pupil; and the mother's voice, naturally rather cold and haughty, thrilled with unutterable pride and tenderness. And while I watched the firelight play upon her rich dress and gleaming jewels, I wondered many things about this mother's life, so wrapt and folded up in her and her youngest child.

"Perhaps Dolly may be a little too much indulged among us all," she said, smiling a contradiction of her words, "but I hope not, though being our only little girl, and several years younger than her brothers, she has always at home a little, perhaps more thought of. But I am sure she will be a little winning thing, and such a pet with us all. I fear that her father will indulge and spoil her. His loving indulgence would be dangerous for another child, but I hope it will do Dolly no harm." The last was very confident that I should not spoil her, too.

"My reason for wishing for an governess," resumed Lady Hurst, "is that she may wait you sometimes kindly in the child's play, as there are few children near her age and position. I am sure she will sometimes amuse as well as exercise your little pupil, and I hope you will endeavor to make Miss Rupert happy in your society."

Need I tell how I strove to do all that, or how grateful I felt when I could sit down at one of my narrow deep set windows, looking over the wide far-reaching park, and thinking how kind had been my reception and how truly and dearly I could love my little pupil?

"I will take you over the house now, Miss May, if you would like," said Dolly, after breakfast next morning, in her quaint, nice halfshy, half-patronizing way. "Would you?"

I told her I should like it very much, and we went together sometimes walking, sometimes running along the intricate, endless-seeming passages, and in and out of the high, richly-furnished rooms, and Dolly told me what they were called, and who occupied them, and the history of many a rare and valuable curiosity. What a grand old house it was! I felt as if I never should be able to venture alone above or below lest I should had not been with me then. I should have lost myself irrecoverably. Even when she only darted on before me into some of the rooms, or up one of the staircases, I felt so bewildered that I listened after her lest I should lose sight of my little guide.

"Shall we go on to the picture gallery, Miss May?" she asked, her light feet dancing at my side; "or shall you be frightened?"

"I don't think I shall be frightened in this very clear daylight, Dolly," I said with great apparent deliberation. "Are there ghosts about them?"

"O, plenty of ghosts," she laughed softly, "plenty." But we'll go on, as you say so.—We'll go into Sir Rupert's room, Miss May—shall we?"

"O yes," I said readily, "which is Sir Rupert's room?"

"This way," replied Dolly, a little gravely; "we shall come to it presently."

We turned into a long arched corridor lighted by small high windows, round which the ivy grew so thick that, though it was carefully cut, its depth shadowing the narrow windows, made the noonday light in there a rather heavy and oppressive gloom.

"There are no inhabited rooms down here," Dolly said, "and no one comes here except Sir Rupert's ghost, as the boys say. But of course, we don't believe that sort of thing, do we?"

"Only as the boys' joke," I answered promptly, having a firm conviction that governesses ought not to allow their pupils to encourage a belief in ghosts.

"Oh; of course there are no ghosts really," said Dolly, with a little bit of awe in her lustrous eyes. "Yet do you know that none of the servants will pass the end of this corridor after dark?"

"Very silly of them," spoke concisively.

"Yes it is silly," replied Dolly, thoughtfully, "and yet do you know, Miss May, I was frightened too, a good while ago?"

"Were you, really?" I inquired, gazing with feigned astonishment into the beautiful little upturned face.

"Yes, I was, indeed. I never liked to come anywhere near here except in broad daylight, and with somebody. But Hugh and Harry laughed at me, so I left it off. But I can never leave off believing one thing. Sometimes, Miss May, I have heard—noises in Sir Rupert's room; and though the boys laugh more than ever at that, and say it's my fancy, I know it isn't. I couldn't fancy odd noises such as I never heard before, could I, Miss May?"

"You might change natural and innocent sounds, by your fancy, into mysterious ones, dear," I said, dropping the subject. "Is this Sir Rupert's room, then?"

"Yes."

We were entering a large, very dimly-lighted chamber, with a high, dark wainscot, from the rich carving of which hung heavy cobwebs, stretching from group to group of leaves and flowers, while the delicate moulding between was lost and buried in the undisturbed dust of many years. A grand old oaken bed stood opposite us; but the hangings were moth-eaten and colorless, like the soft dust-laden carpet, over which the child stepped lightly and unwillingly, holding my hand all the time, and pulling me on when I wanted to stop and look at the curious and beautiful workmanship around me.

"Come," she whispered; "don't stand just here among the—stairs."

"Let us sit down, then," I said, "in this deep window-seat, and you will tell me why this is called Sir Rupert's room."

"This is the worst place of all to sit in.—But, never mind, if you like it," said Dolly, with an odd little attempt at fearlessness.—"Are we to sit on this great cushion? The moths are eating it quickly, aren't they? O, I haven't been in here before in such a time; and—and I think we won't mind going into the inner room to-day will we?"

"I think we have seen quite enough for one day," I answered, seeing she was anxious for that reply. "Which is the inner room? Is that great door the entrance to it?"

"Yes. In there is a kind of dark closet, and when you are inside you can pull a handle, and the wainscot on this side slides over the door and hides it entirely. But papa says the machinery is all rusty now, and will not move. That's the key of the door hanging up beside it; but papa goes inside there sometimes, so that isn't rusty. I don't think there's anything inside except all the big old pictures out of this room piled against the wall there."

"I see, dear; and who was Sir Rupert?"

"O, I'll tell you all that story if you like," said Dolly, in a low serious voice, as she nestled beside me on the deep window-seat in the gloomy room. "This house, you know, Miss May, was quite old in those times when King Charles was fighting against his people, and his people fighting against him; and my great great-great-grandfather was one of those people who,"—here the little lips grew tight and stern—"were against his King. He ought not to have been living in this house really, because Sir Rupert was the oldest brother; but Sir Rupert hadn't any wife or children, and didn't care to live anywhere particularly, but liked to go about with the King and soldiers—of course he fought on the right side—so he sold this Abbey to his brother, who had it full of servants and people that were all Puritans. Then there was that terrible battle, you know, when King Charles was beaten, and all the cavaliers had to hide away wherever they could. And late that night my great-great-great-grandfather opened the window and let poor Sir Rupert creep into the house to find a shelter. They were on different sides, you see, about Oliver Cromwell and King Charles, but of course they loved each other because they were brothers—though papa says all brothers didn't love each other in those days—and Mr. Hurst brought Sir Rupert up here, and brought him nice things to eat and drink, and never told any one. He locked that outer door upon him, and felt he was quite safe here; but if he heard any alarm he was to keep in the little room, and slide back the panel. Of course poor Sir Rupert felt himself safe in his brother's house, and used to come out of his closet a good deal and walk about here. But one evening, just as he was coming out to breathe a little fresh air, he saw a man, a horrible Puritan servant without hair, jump in softly from the window sill, and stand there, and tell him Cromwell's soldiers were behind. Sir Rupert knew that the man who had betrayed him was one of his brother's servants; he knew his brother couldn't fight against his own side, even for him; and he knew that he couldn't kill a whole troop. So—he just raised his pistol, Miss May and shot the man dead on—on that very spot at our feet where the stain is; for he had never ventured to go further in after he had seen Sir Rupert's figure in the doorway. Do you know that these rooms are so far away from the cheerful part of the house, and the walls are so thick that nobody heard the shot, and Sir Rupert was standing quite still there, and the dead man was lying quite still here, when Mr. Hurst came in on one of his visits. They had not said one word to each other, but one brother was holding out his hand sorrowfully, and the other was holding his forgivingly when they heard—they said—when a crowd of soldiers followed their guide through this window. O, Miss May, mustn't it been a dreadful, dreadful sight, especially to Mr. Hurst, who knew that he couldn't prevent them taking his brother? But they did not take him, Miss May, after all. There was a terrible fight here—here on this very floor, and they left Sir Rupert dead in the doorway just where he had been all the time. Certainly it was his own fault that he had been killed, as he wouldn't let them take him alive, and he had fired the first shot, too; but it was a sham fighting for so many to fight against one. Before he died he had pulled two of them. Miss May—two more besides his brother's servant. Now you know how the carpet is so stained. Oh, isn't it a terrible story? And it is that very fight that I sometimes hear—shouting and struggling—and oh, I shriek sometimes. Let us go now; shall we?"

I saw that the child had wrought herself into a painful state of excitement by telling the story; and so, while I soothed and quieted her, we left the room together.

Health Notice.

To the Citizens of Bangor.

The State has provided that certain measures shall be pursued in order to insure the health of the inhabitants. Among these measures are the removing of filth, unclean and noisome substances, and all things injurious to health, from the premises of citizens. Permit me to suggest to you,

1st—To examine your premises particularly, their condition in regard to ventilation, dampness, decaying vegetables, and all filthy substances.

2d—See if there is any offensive smell from your sinks, or if your drains are clogged or uncovered.

3d—Examine your privies and vaults. If they are full, running over, or filthy, or smell badly, have them emptied.

4th—See if there are decaying substances or filth of any kind about your premises.

5th—See if there is any public nuisance in your neighborhood, such as open sewers, drains, cesspools, stagnant water, offensive stables, hog sties, &c.

6th—See if any drain, cesspool, privy, stable, or hog sty, is so near to your well as to allow its entrance into it. By observing and carrying out the above suggestions you will confer a favor on the public, and a blessing on yourself.

THE

IS A FINISHED LINE

Running through one of the richest portions of Illinois, and connecting Chicago by the shortest route with the celebrated Block Coal fields of Indiana, and by way of Evansville and Nashville with the entire South. Its mortgage debt is $2,500,000, or about $18,500 to the mile. Although the road is but just opened, it is already earning, after all operating expenses are paid,

More than the Entire Interest on all its bonds. While railroad bonds may be plenty, those upon finished and paying lines and for so small a sum to the mile, are seldom in the market.

We do not hesitate to recommend these Bonds as unusually safe. They are attended with none of the uncertainties of projected enterprises, and the prompt payment of the interest, and the final payment of the principal, are as certain as any future financial event.

The Bonds are for $1,000 each, have forty years to run, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable on the first of April and October, both principal and interest being payable in gold in New York.

We are selling them daily to the most careful investors.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the drawing of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessary of a journey to Washington to prosecute a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy AMONG THE MOST CAPABLE AND CAREFUL PRACTITIONERS with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of getting their patents at the lowest, or secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Gen. R. H. Eddy has published for over 1 EARS WEEKLY a list of patents, with a specimen illustration, which is by far the most valuable and interesting sheet issued by any patent office agency in the country. Inventors may safely confide their business to Gen. Eddy, who is well known to be a skillful and reliable agent."

The valuable property at the mouth of the Piscataquis River, County of Penobscot, Maine, consisting of a valuable Water Power Mill Privilege, Mills, Houses, Stores and Shops, and about forty-five acres of land adjoining, formerly owned and occupied by the late Hon. Wm. Miller, making one of the most desirable locations for manufacturing lumber, or any thing else, in Maine. It is also a particularly desirable location for a large Tannery, there being large quantities of Hemlock bark in the immediate vicinity.

—ALSO—

About twenty-three hundred acres of timber land, covered with pine, spruce, Hemlock, Cedar, &c., all within four and one half miles of the Mills, will be sold with the above if desired.

The above property is thirty five miles above Bangor, on the Penobscot River, and in easy communication with the Dempseen and North American Rail Road.

Parties wishing to examine will call on FRANK DAVIS, SAMUEL DAVIS, FRANK INGALLS, or JOHN HALEY, at Howland.

For price and terms or any other information regarding it, call on or address W. WILLIAM, Attorney for the heirs of the late N. J. Miller, or N. JONES MILLER, JR.,

No. 84 Commercial Street, Portland, Me.

Price low, terms easy.

75,000 Acres

OF GOOD

Timber Land

For Sale at a Low Rate,

Situated on Moose River, in the town of Greig, Lewis County, New York.

Said timber consisting of White Hemlock, Spruce, Pine and Hardwood. The subscribers own two large tanneries, located on the aforesaid track, which will consume the hemlock bark; thus enabling the land and timber to be purchased at a comparatively cheap rate. The timber is excellent in quality in all particulars. The aforesaid tract of land is easy of access, being only four miles to fifteen miles from both the Black River & R. and Black River Canal, which lead direct to the Albany Market. The land is comparatively level, well watered and good for farming purposes. Moose River, which extends through the tract, is a large stream and capable into Black River, where the aforesaid Canal leads into Black River. At this point or junction of the rivers, is a fall of sixty (60) feet, over which the waters of both rivers flow, thus forming an unlimited water power, two miles in length, and a fall of sixty feet, to which Moose River will carry the immense amount of timber from the aforesaid lands.

Any parties desiring to manufacture lumber will do well to give this rare opportunity their attention. The land and timber can be purchased at a cheap rate on the ten years credit.
